

Uprooted: Japanese American Farm Labor Camps During World War II

1942 Russell Lee FSA Photographs: Labor

OCHC Lee #031 Laborers near Twin Falls, Idaho.

Twin Falls County, Idaho. Farm Security Administration workers' camp. Japanese farm workers.
Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF34-073809-E.

OCHC Lee #032 Laborer moving water near Rupert, Idaho.

Rupert, Idaho. Former Civilian Conservation Corps camp now under Farm Security Administration management. A Japanese American farm worker. Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF34-073923-E.

OCHC Lee #033 Jack Ouchida, pictured on the right, and Amalgamated Sugar Company employees check the payroll at the Garrison's Corner camp near Nyssa, Oregon.

Nyssa, Oregon. Farm Security Administration mobile camp. Sugar beet company representative left, U.S. Employment Service representative and Japanese American worker checking a payroll. Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF34-073621-D.

OCHC Lee #034 Laborers riding to Nyssa, Oregon on an Amalgamated Sugar Company truck.
Joe Yoshio Komoto is pictured third from the left.

Nyssa, Oregon. Farm Security Administration mobile camp. The sugar beet companies who sponsored the Japanese Americans who moved to the camp send trucks one night a week to take them into town for a few hours in a supervised group. Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF34-073597-D.

OCHC Lee #035 Trucks arriving at the Garrison's Corner camp near Nyssa, Oregon to pick up laborers.

Nyssa, Oregon. Farm Security Administration mobile camp. Japanese American farm workers ready to leave for the fields. The farmers send trucks to the camp to pick them up. Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF33-013305-M1.

OCHC Lee #036 Japanese American farm worker resting near Nyssa, Oregon.

Nyssa, Oregon. Farm Security Administration mobile camp. Japanese American farm worker.
Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF34-073699-E.

Sponsored by the Orr family in honor of Morgen Young

OCHC Lee #037 Working in a sugar beet field near Shelley, Idaho.

Shelley, Idaho. Japanese Americans hoeing sugar beets on farm. Library of Congress, Prints & Photographs Division, FSA-OWI Collection, LC-USF34-073828-E.

Sponsored by Janet Learmonth and Walter Wakefield